

Anonsai / Zapowiedzi

March 31th – April 2, 2017 in Italy will be held the First CIRQUE (Centro Interuniversitario di Ricerca Queer) L'Aquila Conference What's New in Queer Studies? As well as an opportunity for global, multi-, inter- and transdisciplinary reflections on queer issues, defined in the broadest and most inclusive terms, the conference aims to queer the very modalities through which knowledge and cultural practices are articulated, shared, discussed and validated within and beyond the academic environment. One important aspect of this is that sessions will not be organized as presentations but as discussions: the full text of all contributions will be made available in advance, so that the contact time between presenters and audience will be devoted to a group discussion in order to maximize audience engagement and participation. All presenters will have the option to submit a revised version of their papers to Whatever. More information here <http://cirque.unipi.it/2017conference/>

* * *

April 20th–22th, 2017 in Poland, at the International Conference Center in Katowice will be held 2nd International Languages & Emotions Conference. Auditorium with simultaneous translations in Polish, French, and English. The main topics of the conference are: multilingualism, intentional bilingualism (non-native bilingualism), speech disorders, selective mutism, autism, stuttering, and the relationships between emotions and languages as well as emotions in languages. More information here www.languagesandemotions.eu

* * *

April 27th–28th, 2017 in Kaunas (Lithuania), at the Vilnius University Kaunas Faculty of Humanities will take place international conference Texts and Contexts: the Phenomenon of Boundaries. The Conference offers an opportunity to present and learn about research findings concerning fuzziness of boundaries in different types of human communication, and their cognitive, cultural, narrative, poetic, rhetorical, social, textual and discourse functions. Contributions to the general session of the Conference can address the linguistic and/ or literary character and the use of the various types of formal linguistic and poetic constructions, as well as the nature of figurative signs and devices in multi-modal or non-verbal communication within public and/ or literary discourse. Conference accepts papers in a wide range of topics from many different fields of the Humanities and Social Sciences. Abstracts should be sent to text.context.2016@gmail.com by 1 March 2017. More information here <http://www.khf.vu.lt/aktualijos/skelbimai/220-renginiai/1853-texts-and-contexts-the-phenomenon-of-boundaries>

* * *

October 11th–14th, 2017 in Italy, at the University of Bologna (Department of Education) will be held the 2017 International Association for Dialogue Analysis (IADA) conference Dialogue, Interaction and Culture: Multidisciplinary perspectives on language use in everyday life. The conference focuses on the role of dialogue or interaction in displaying, maintaining, creating yet also defying the crucial dimensions of the world we live in. This process is particularly at play – although not necessarily noticed – in everyday life. Rather than a context, this phenomenological notion indicates the obvious, routine, quasi-natural quality of most human practices taking place in ordinary as well as institutional contexts. More information here <https://eventi.unibo.it/international-conference-iada-bologna2017>

* * *

Dear colleagues!

The information about conferences, seminars and other scientific events of your institution please send to respectus.philologicus@khf.vu.lt